Parkview Baptist Plan Treasure Chest Meeting

No pirate, but a preacher with a big treasure chest for the kids will be in town next week. And some youngsters, lucky enough to get the right keys, will get some valuable prizes. All this and much more excitement will be featured at the "Treasure Chest Meetings" to be held at The Parkview Baptist Church, Scott Street and La Porte Road, in Mokena, Illinois. Services beginning October 8 and going through October 15. Daily except Friday at 7:30 p.m. Sundays: 9:45, 11:00 and 7:00 p.m. Everyone is invited to these Family meetings.

Keeper of the treasure chest is Dr. Donald Smith, an instructor of speech and homiletics at Moody Bible Institute. He is popular as a speaker for young people's groups, retreats and conferences. Until recently he was the youth director of a large suburban Chicago church. "Next week we'll give out keys to the treasure chest for continued attendance and for all sorts of interesting contests," says Dr. Smith. "They'll be used in memory contests, as rewards for bringing friends or even just sitting in a lucky seat. On the last day of the meetings, we'll try all the keys to see who can open the treasure chest and win a prize." Dr. Smith's friendly and easy manner makes him a success with youngsters as well as an effective faculty member at Moody Bible Institute. In his speech and homiletics classes he has recently been using closed circuit television as a teaching tool. When not engaged in either preaching or teaching, Dr. Smith continues his keen interest in sports which he shares with his teen-age son. This interest began in high school where he played hockey as well as baseball.

Rams Nose Knights 6-0

BY PAUL BROWN

The Rams of Reavis downed Lincoln-Way 6-0 Friday afternoon. It was the second conference game of the season for both teams.

Reavis struck in the second quarter on a 15-yard jaunt by Bill Terhaar over tackle. The touchdown was set up thru a pass interference call against the Knights.

Lincoln-Way threatened only once seriously. On the kickoff after the Reavis touchdown the Knights were able to advance to the Ram nineteen yard line before Reavis intercepted a pass.

The outstanding lineman in the game was linebacker and defensive captain, Paul Mlakar. Paul called the defensive maneuvers along with making several tackles throughout the game.

Statistics show Reavis outplayed the Knights. For instance in rushing, the Rams picked up 182 yards compared to 104 for Lincoln-Way. However, the Knights did pick up six more yards passing than Reavis. Both teams lost the ball three times on fumbles and Reavis intercepted two Knight passes. Moreover, Reavis had ten first downs to five for the Knights.

Lincoln-Way is now 0-1-1 in conference play and 1-1-1 overall. Reavis is now 1-1-0 in conference play and 1-2-0 overall.

Saturday afternoon the Knights are hosts to the Spartans of Oak Lawn in what should be a real thriller.

In the frosh-soph game last week Reavis was an easy victor, winning over Lincoln-Way 26-0.

Sets Sewer Connection Deadline And Means It

Sewers, and attendant problems, occupied a major portion of the attention of the Frankfort village board at its meeting Monday night and the action taken will be of prime interest to persons affected.

Property owners who have not applied for permits to make sewer connections or who have obtained permits but have not put them to use face court action if such connections are not completed by Oct. 31.

The board also went on record as planning to take action against those property owners who have failed to prevent roof water from discharging into the sanitary sewer.

A village wide inspection of buildings is planned and dye tests made to determine the source of storm water.

The Frankfort grade school which had dumped tons of roof water into the sanitary sewer is no longer an offender. The storm water there is now being diverted into the old septic tile line that had served the school.

It was pointed out that while the school had the largest single roof there are many homes that still shed their roof water into the sanitary sewer. In the heavy rains a couple of weeks ago there were cisterns that over flowed and that water also passed into the sewer.

The rainfall a couple of weeks ago was unusually heavy. In some areas, where homes do not have downspouts connected with the sewer the mains were reported functioning normally but in other areas where it is suspected the roof water was going directly into the sewer the tiles were filled to over capacity so the water backed into some basements.

"We have a good sewer system," Mayor George Sangmeister said, "and are asking the public to cooperate with us in curbing abuses. Dumping roof water into a sanitary sewer not only is likely to cause wet basements in some areas but it also is expensive to the village. Putting all that water thru the sewage disposal plant is costly. We hope that it won't be necessary to take any action against anyone for dumping roof water into the sewer, we hope that we will have the cooperation of the homeowners in this."

Bad weather caused the village to ease off on the Oct. 1 deadline for all sewer connections. Now the date is Oct. 31 and no excuses will be accepted for failure to have such connections made by that date. There are only 25 householders who have not had connections made, it was reported by Village Clerk Walter Pfaff. He has been instructed to inform these people they have until the end of October to have their properties connected with the sewer. Those who do not comply will receive another notice. That one will take them into court. The penalty for failure to make sewer connections ranges from $5 to $100 for each offense and each day the connection is not made is considered to be a separate offense.

Septic tanks, cess pools, seepage beds and privies are banned in the village where residents have access to sewer, according to the ordinance, it was brought out by Village Attorney Albert H. Krusemark. It was reported Monday night that the principal trouble that has been plaguing operation of the sewage treatment plant since it was opened about a year ago has been eliminated. There were times when the sewage coming into the plant would move fast enough and there were times when the liquid passing from the clarifier or settling tank to the aerator appeared to be blocked. Intermittent cut off of power due to a minor disturbance on a line several miles from the plant is believed responsible for the trouble of moving sewage into the plant. The blocked line to the aerator was found to be that way because of a plug that had been inserted in the line during construction of the plant. It had not been removed but was partially open, being held in the pipe by a long spike. With the plug removed and a new "squirrel cage" on a transformer the treatment plant is functioning quite well, it was reported.

Henry Vossel, of Frankfort, a salesman, has been appointed to the village zoning board of appeals by Mayor Sangmeister. The appointment was approved by the village board.

The board approved payment of $1,625 to Brown and Lambrecht for work done on Kansas street. The money is derived from Frankfort's share of the state motor fuel tax fund. The contractor still has $530 coming. Total cost of the job from motor fuel tax money was $5,307.

The New York Central's

latest bill against the village for permission to bore holes under the tracks to permit installation of sewer mains is $580. Most of the bill was for employment of flagmen. The railroad has an intricate system of cost accounting, one of their engineers explained, and it is reflected in the bill. The village will have to pay the bill, it was said, and then turn to D'Andrea Const. Co., the sewer contractor, for re-payment.

Wayne Johnson, Frankfort, would remove the 60 trees stricken with Dutch Elm disease that are located on billage property. He proposed to the village board Monday to do the job for $2,000 or $33.33 a tree. He agreed to take out six inches or better of the stump below ground surface. The board asked him to put his proposal in writing.

A letter was sent by the village to the Wight Engineering firm, representing the developers of Connecticut Hills, agreeing to pay half of an estimated $2,000 figure given by Brown and Lambrecht for cleaning and widening a drainage ditch that winds thru the subdivision to Hickory creek. It was expected the work would begin immediately.

LINCOLN-WAY ROOTERS didn't have too much to cheer about at the end because the Knights failed to overcome a 6-0 lead by Reavis and that is the way the game finished. However, it was a thriller and one can't tell what's what until the last whistle blows. When this picture was taken Lincoln-Way had just executed a good play and the fans displayed their pleasure and hope.

SPC To Show Last Fall Movie Friday

The Frankfort SPC organization will present their last movie for the fall this Friday evening, Oct. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the local school gym. The movie to be shown will be Alice in Wonderland.

Dates for the meetings to which the public will be urged to attend that they may learn at first hand about the industrial opportunities offered by the area, will be announced later.

Early Christmas note: "Hedda-Get-Bedda" is three dolls-in-one: twist her top and she's "poor sick Hedda," "sleepy Hedda," or "happy Hedda".

OOPS, IT SPILLED and the photographer didn't have the film turned in time to catch the next play and being busy he didn't know whether Lincoln-Way recovered or the Reavis Rams. It is easy to tell the Rams because they have horns painted on their helmets but no score card was available and one sitting way off here agrees with the vendors chant that you can't tell the players without a scoreboard. Reavis won the game 6-0.

Carpenter Sues

For $175,000

(CNS) A carpenter injured in a scaffold accident on a Midlothian construction site Wednesday sued the contractor for $175,000 damages.

Thomas B. Dunn filed the suit
in Superior Court against Ralph
E. Strutz and Adolph DeBoer, doing business as Ashburn Construction Co.

Ashburn was the general contractor on a building construction job at 14600 Keystone Ave., Midlothian, when the incident occurred on Aug. 29. Dunn was working for a subcontractor, Hayes Flooring Co., he said.

A wood scaffold erected by Ashburn for workmen was not safely built, placed or secured,
had no railings, was six feet above the ground, and was extended between two levels of the building at a sharp angle, the suit alleges. Dunn contends the company violated the Structural Work Act, resulting in his injuries.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS M. GIBBONS (Porter Studio photo)

Barnett-Gibbons Vows Read In Mokena Church

Miss Marilyn Barnett became the bride of Thomas M. Gibbons at four o'clock the afternoon of Saturday, Sept. 16 in the Mokena Methodist church.

The Rev. Theodore Wimmer, pastor of St. John's United Church of Christ read the marriage ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Barnett of 192nd street, Mokena and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibbons of New Lenox.

Bouquets of mums and gladioli festooned the altar of the church, and traditional wedding selections were played on the organ by Wayne Swanberg and also on the piano by Miss June Swanber.

Escorted up the aisle by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown featuring a scoop neckline with long sleeves and a bouffant skirt that swept into a chapel train. Seed pearls and sequins were applied on the bodice and repeated in the skirt from the waist down the front continuing to form a border on the chapel train. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a crown of seed pearls. She carried a spray of white baby mums centered with a white orchid.

Maid of honor, Patricia Barnett, sister of the bride, chose a street length gown of royal blue organza over taffeta. Her hat was a stand up crown with a short veil and she carried a bouquet of white baby mums.

Bridesmaids, Patricia Fallon, cousin of the bride and Bonnie Sproat and junior bridesmaid Linda Fidyk, cousin of the bride were attired identical to the maid of honor.

Judith Fidyk, cousin of the bride, was attired in a white organza dress with blue embroidered flowers. She carried a basket of blue and white petals.

Kerry Gibbons, brother of the groom, served as ring bearer and carried the rings on a heart shaped pillow.

Duties of the best man were carried out by Henry Barnett, brother of the bride and ushers were Stan Barnett, brother of bride and Dick Weems.

The reception was held at Valley View farm restaurant to which some 200 guests attended. Greeting the guests was the bride's mother, Mrs. Barnett, who was attired in an emerald green brocade bell shaped gown with black accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Gibbons, chose a brown lace sheath over beige satin with beige accessories. Both mothers wore a corsage of baby red roses.

The young couple motored to Tacoma, Wash., where the groom is stationed with the United States Air Forcebase as A 3/c. The bride was formerly employed at the Orland Park State bank.

Hail To October

October!

October is the true month of autumn. It is the bridge between summer and fall. It begins with the World Series and ends with Halloween. September is really a part of summer; November marks the beginning of winter. October then, is really autumn.

October is a glorious month. On the sunny days the air fairly sparkles and the smell of burning leaves is like incense. . . In the early morning and in the cold light of the moon there is a hint of frost. . . sometimes more than a hint. . . It is a busy time on the farms for it is harvest time and before the month ends the fields will be bare of grain. . . Kitchens where the heat of summer has kept cooking to a minimum are busy places in those households where canning and preserving have not become lost arts. . . Those sophisticated whose olfactory senses have been nurtured on expensive scents from Paris and the orient but have never been in a home kitchen when chili sauce or tomato catsup are in the making have something to look forward to in perfumery. . . Is there anything with a more tantalizing, more appetizing smell than a kettle of chili sauce simmering on the stove. . . .

Like listening to a symphony orchestra on hi-fi and trying to single out the various woodwinds and brasses one may endeavor to isolate the odors that blended together make up this symphony of smell. . . the vinegar, the onion are as vigorous and distinct as a trombone but what of the mace, the cloves, the nutmeg, the celery seeds, the allspice and the cinnamon? . . . It is difficult indeed to pick one out and say positively. . . this is such-and-such. . . but together they give a marvelous performance, the memory of which will linger in one's mind for years. . . And the glasses and jars of jellies, jams, preserves, the plums, the peaches, ranging the color scale from red and purple to gold that give pleasure to the eye as well as spur the appetite.

One's energy should be best in October--it should be recovered from the heat of summer and not yet dulled by the cold of winter.

October is more than a month--it is a wonderful season!

Fire Prevention Week

Next week, Oct. 8 - 14, is Fire Prevention Week.

Every week is fire prevention week for fire departments and should be for property owners. Fire Prevention Week itself is set aside to emphasize to the public the need of guarding against fire hazards.

Statistics reveal that more than half a million homes in the United States are hit by fire each year. That figures out to one home every minute.

More than 6,000 persons, mostly the young and the aged, die in these fires -- 17 every day.

And the tragic thing about it is that most of this death and destruction could be prevented by making a habit of the rules of fire safety.

For instance, have you discussed the danger of fire with members of your family. . . Have you planned at least two ways to get out of every room in your house and do you rehearse these exit plans and do you keep exit routes clear?

Do you know how to notify your fire department quickly and correctly in case of fire?

Another rule one should follow is never to leave small children alone or unattended. Make sure your babysitter knows the exit routes from your home and knows how to notify the fire department. Make sure your babysitter and all members of the family know the first rule of safety in fire emergencies--get out fast and don't go back in the house.

Be careful how you dispose of cigaret, cigar and pipe ashes. Keep matches out of reach of children. Don't smoke in bed.

Keep furnaces and chimneys in repair. They should be checked annually. Keep combustible material away from heat sources.

Have your wiring checked. Is it adequate for the number of appliances you use. Make certain that the fuses you use are of the correct size. See that your TV antenna is installed where it cannot fall across power lines. Is such antenna equipped with a properly grounded lightning arrester.

Keep attics, basements, garages, closets and yards clear of rubbish. Keep paint and other flammable liquids in tightly closed metal containers and away from heat and children.

Don't use flammable liquids to clean clothing walls or floors.

If you have some questions ask your fire department.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

This is National Pharmacy Week, a period set aside in tribute to the druggists of these United States for their unstinting service to their neighbors.

It isn't hard for me to say something nice about druggists. The first regular vacation job I held was in a drug store, at the soda fountain. We alternated a long day and a short day; the long day was from 7 a.m. to 12 midnight, the short day from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. The pay was $3 a week. Registered pharmacists were in the high salary bracket of those days. . . $25 a week; some of them who served in a managerial capacity were paid higher. . . $40 a week, which was a princely sum indeed.

My duties increased with experience and in addition to waiting on the fountain trade I became general clerk and after several years of working thru vacations, after school and weekends they had me compounding simple prescriptions and helping the druggists make up tinctures and compound other things that now come prepared from the pharmaceutical houses.

At the end my pay had increased to $15 a week which was really a lot of money because with the hours one put in there was little opportunity to spend much of it on anything other than essentials.

The pay was welcome, of course, but in a way was incidental. There were perquisites of more importance.

First there were the people--the customers. Anyone who would take a course in the study of human nature will find that employment in a drugstore is most productive.

It is true that one meets the same people, in a grocery store, a department store or some other mercantile establishment that one encounters in a drugstore but their attitude is different.

Druggists, like bartenders, seem to be considered as natural repositories of confidences. Family doctors come in for a lot of the same thing but their ranks are thinning before the steady push toward specialization and besides, doctors are so busy these days one scarcely has time to list one's symptoms, let alone discuss other troubles.

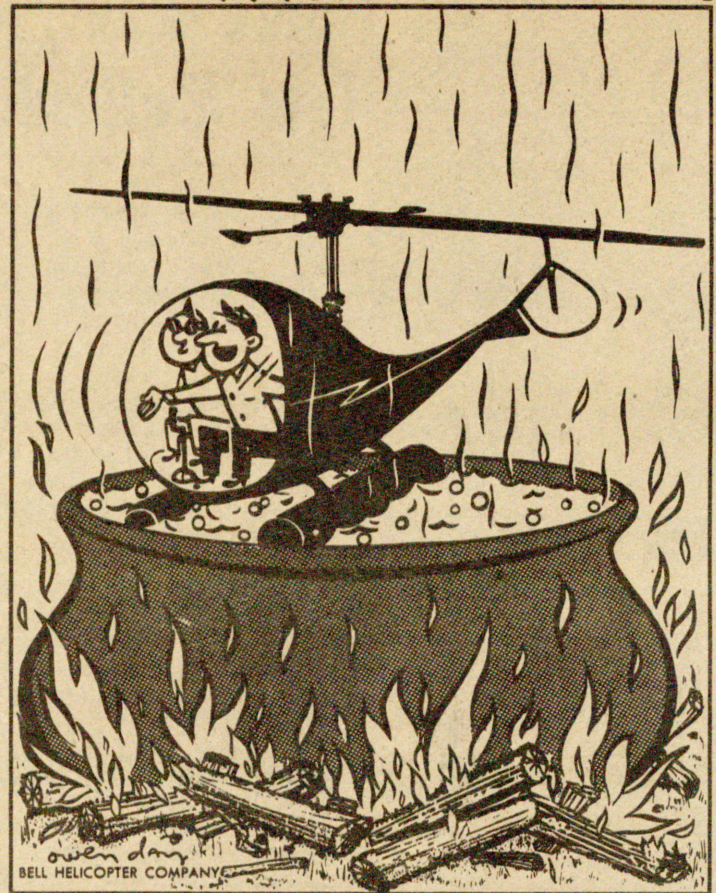

The druggist, however, is continually having his ears bent back and the things he hears. . . . All kinds of people from all walks of life pass thru neighborhood drugstores. . . to some it serves as a confessional, to others it is a club, to some it is a forum for the exchange of ideas, while still others regard it as a place in which to exchange gossip with each other or symptoms, or relate their troubles. . .

A stranger with a knowledge of medicines and their uses would not have to ask about the health of the inhabitants of a community if he were given access to the prescription files of a neighborhood druggist and hung about the store for a couple of hours to see what patent remedies were in demand. He would know.

I should add that in addition to getting a short course in human nature my years in a drug store instilled in me a lively interest in people. . . . Deciphering prescriptions has stood me in good stead in deciphering reportorial scrawls not to mention my own notes after they have grown cold. If there is any handwriting more illegible than that of a physician in making out a prescription it is to be found on the editorial side of a newspaper. . . . But most of all, my years of seeing druggists at work has given me a great respect for them and that selfishness is a sin. . . . Your druggist knows materia medica. . . he knows the properties of the medicines he dispenses. . . he knows their dosage. . . he knows their effects and that knowledge has saved many lives.

If there is such a thing as "public friend," then your druggist fills the bill. Pharmacists as a whole have been most generous in undertaking community health projects and other civic activities. They are key members in the health team that serves society. Get to know him and understand his problems as he understands yours.

He is ready and willing to fill your needs, regardless of the hour, day or night. He is a wonderful guy to have on your side.

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The foreign situation has been something of a hindrance to the securities markets of late as the cold-war heats up and then cools off a bit. A leading investment magazine expresses the thought that the atom bomb or whatever, under the most pessimistic descriptions, will finish the business world entirely and therefore we had best go about business as usual since if the worst is realized, we will have nothing anyhow--so business as usual. The securities markets, obviously do not anticipate too serious a world situation, but rather the results of military and social moves by the government and their effect on business.

Increases in defense spending have been generally expected as the world situation demands that we be in position to move from strength rather than weakness. U. S. News & World Report carries an article in which comparisons are made with that of Russia. This seems to be typical of other news magazines in that the trend seems to be more careful analysis rather than emphasis on what the smaller nations will think of our moves. Russia proved she did not care what these nations thought thru atom testing and Berlin moves. Business has been critical of government build-up and then dropping of the defense program. The contraction and expansion is very expensive and ineffective.

Fortune Magazine's "Business Roundup" predicts that business activity by next spring, with added defense spending on top of the normal upswing of the business cycle, will speed us toward a superboom which is likely to be in evidence in 1962. The problem of unemployment is expected to be of minor proportions in mid 1962. In the early stages of business expansion, employment figures do not rise as fast as business expansion indicates likely. Reason often given is that in periods of slow down, production per man - hours usually increases, but that the increase does not hold and drops back to an expected 3 per cent increase per year.

Paperboard production and sales figures, are watched closely as one of the more sensitive business indices. This is hardly surprising since most manufactured products are now in paper board cartons at shipment. Production of this item is showing a strong upward trend.

Early in the year new housing starts were predicted as likely to be close to 5% increase over 1960. These figures are now expected to be closer to 3 percent. Mortgage money has not been plentiful at rates set by the government on FHA and VA loans. It is expected that the political pressures for low interest rates will have to give way to competition for available funds with higher rates. As business improves, there are many demands for loans in addition to residential building. However, pressures for building of all types is expected to increase.

THE PASTOR'S DESK

A SEARCH FOR MEANING
Then I said, "Lo, I come;
in the roll of the book it is written of me;
I delight to do thy will, O my God;
thy law is within my heart."
I have told the glad news of deliverance
in the great congregation;
Lo, I have not restrained my lips,
as thou knowest, O Lord,
I have not hid thy saving help
within my heart;
I have spoken of thy faithfulness and thy salvation; . . .
(Ps. 40: 7-10a)

It was Palm Sunday, 1955. I was thousands of miles from home. On this quiet, holy morning, I was attending church services in Seville, Spain. It was a lonesome occasion for me because I had never been away from home during the Lenten season. After a few minutes of meditation, I began to forget myself.

About this time, I noticed an old woman who was moving slowly up and down the aisles of the cathedral obviously looking for someone. The famous Roman Catholic cathedral was filled with people, and the old woman, bent with rheumatism and age, moved slowly through the church. Quietly and then more feverishly she began searching the faces in the chairs. Suddenly her eyes stopped, a smile crossed her face, and she sat down with a young couple who had just entered the sanctuary.

We often enter the sanctuary say, "Lo, I come. . ." but we lack that forbearance to continue seeking God. We search for meaning in life, quietly at first and then more and more frantically as we do not find the assurance we seek. We too will find Him whom we search for when God has an active relationship in our lives. We feel the assurance that the Lord will deliver us and will help us in our moments of trial.

Let us come to the Lord seeking His assistance. Then, proclaim to the world his love and goodness for us.

Prayer:
O Holy God, let our hearts be moved that we might find Thee ever at our side, that we might know we are Thy children, and that through Thee, we will discover and understand Thy meaning and purpose for our lives. In our blessed Savior's name, we pray. Amen.

Daily Today's Thought:
No search is in vain if God is in your heart.

Hints For Homeowners

Early fall is considered the best time to plant one of the most popular garden perennials, peonies. These plants are familiar and appreciated by almost everyone. They are one of the most showy and most easily grown of all garden flowers.

Most of our peony varieties originated from two species, Paeonia albiflora and Paeonia chinensis. The species are almost never planted, but the centuries of crossing have resulted in the many varieties and types which are so beautiful in our gardens in late spring. Peony flowers are classified as to the amount of doubleness. Singles have five petals and a multitude of yellow, pollen bearing stamens. The transformation of these stamens into petal-like structures is what produces doubleness. Japanese types have two to three rows of petals and strap-like stamens. In fully double peonies the stamens are completely transformed into petals. The American Peony Society lists other intermediate types but the three general categories are usually enough for accurate classification.

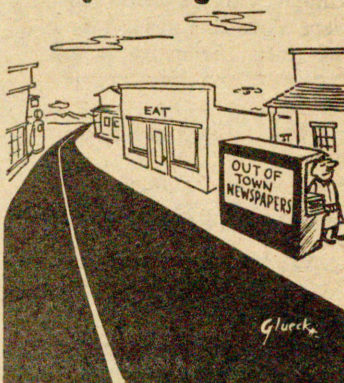

Double peonies are sterile, and cannot be reproduced from seeds. The single and Japanese varieties are hybrids, and even though they may produce seeds, the resultant plants may be quite unlike their parents. Peonies are almost always propagated by division of the large storage roots called tubers. The divisions should be divided into sections containing three to five eyes. Plant the sections that the top eye is about two inches below the surface of the soil. Too deep or too shallow planting is usually the cause of failure to bloom. Large clumps cannot be moved. When it is necessary to move a plant, it must be divided and the small pieces planted.

Peonies will not bloom the year following division. If a bud is formed, it should be picked off. The third year after planting, satisfactory blooming should begin.

Peonies make large plants so allow plenty of room for them to expand. Once established they do not like to be disturbed. Few diseases or insects attack peonies. Ants, often prolific on peonies, cause much undue concern. They do not hurt the plants, but remove sweet material secreted by the buds.

PTA Plays Host To Teachers, Room Mothers

A social hour for teachers and room mothers was held Wednesday, Sept. 27 in the Orland Park elementary school. The purpose of this gathering, planned by Mrs. Billy Bishop, room representative chairman, was to establish close cooperation between the faculty members and room mothers for the ensuing school year.

Room mothers plan two room parties per year - Halloween and Valentine's Day, serve at one PTA meeting, chaperone one skating party, and accompany the teachers and children on a spring field trip. Their function is to relieve the teachers of additional duties in undertaking these extracurricular activities.

During the tea, other committee chairmen gave reports of particular interest to the teachers and room mothers, on such topics as roller skating parties, refreshments, and equipment for serving at P.T.A. meetings, and information about the membership drive.

During the business meeting a committee was formed and plans made to hold a social evening for the upper classes of the school, sometime before Thanksgiving. Plans were also made for the members of the school board to consult Verne Crackle, county superintendent of schools, on the possibility of having the section near the school, made into a 20 mile zone on school days. The club also agreed to buy three equipped aquariums, one for each room at the school, and recreation equipment for the lower grades.

After the meeting and program, Matthew Rasich, teacher at the school, was pleasantly surprised with a purse of money; a wedding gift from the club. He was married on Saturday.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by second grade mothers.

Jury Awards $225,000 To Victims Of Auto Crash

(CNS) - A $225,000 verdict, largest of this court year, was handed down Tuesday by a Superior Court jury which heard the case growing out of a four-car collision in Evergreen Park three years ago which killed two men.

The jury awarded $175,000 to Archie Mason, 29, 6232 Ingleside, Chicago; $46,500 to Charles Hlavacek, 66, 5542 Franklin, La Grange, and $3,500 to George Miller, 49, 3112 W. Fullerton, Chicago.

Judge John Lupe directed a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs following submission of all the evidence in the 1 1/2-week trial. The jury decided only the damages. They deliberated four hours.

The three plaintiffs were injured in a crash at 93rd and Western Nov. 6, 1958. Mason was on his way to work with Henry Lewis, 4243 W. Gretnshaw Chicago. Lewis was killed in the crash.

George O'Rourke, 10058 Cliffton Park, Evergreen Park, sales manager for Arrow Contractors Equipment Co., 4646 S. Kedzie, Chicago, crossed the center line and hit the Lewis car head-on, testimony showed. O'Rourke also was killed in the accident, and Arrow was the defendant in the case.

The Lewis car in turn collided with the auto in which Hlavacek and Miller were traveling, and a fourth car was hit by Miller's car.

Mason's attorney, Philip H. Corboy, had asked $300,000 damages for Mason, a laborer for the Chicago Magnesium Casting Co., before the accident. He said Mason, who has a life expectancy of 36 years, could not return to work because of his disabling injuries.

Hlavacek and Miller are boiler-makers. Hlavacek was unable to return to his job because of back injuries suffered in the crash, and Miller missed six weeks of work, Corboy said.

Assessor To Have Mobile Field Office In Suburbs

(CNS) Cook County Assessor P. J. Cullerton has been authorized by the county board of commissioners to begin using a mobile field office in connection with assessing of real estate, particularly in the suburban areas of the county.

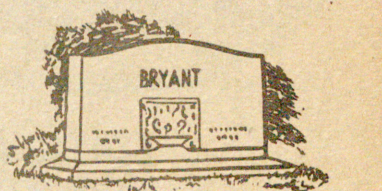

The mobile office will systematically cover all areas of each township, spending a few days in each spot. The schedule will be announced later.

Deputy field assessors will work out of the mobile office, a tractor-drawn trailer to be rented for $200 a month.

Cullerton said it will accomplish three purposes: (1) Expedite the appraisal of newly constructed improvements. (2) Serve as headquarters for a survey of all real estate parcels in the area to ascertain whether all existing improvements have been assessed. (3) Make it easier for tax-payors to ask questions and receive information about their assessments. Cullerton said it often is a hardship for suburban residents to make a trip to the assessor's office

VFW Post To Stage Party For Firemen

William Martin Post 725,
VFW, Mokena is going to stage
a fund raising program for the benefit of the Mokena volunteer fire department, next Tuesday evening, Oct. 10 at 8:00 p.m. in the VFW hall on Wolf road. The public is invited to attend.

Edward O'Connor, post commander, states "it will be only with the full co-operation of the residents of this area that we can hope to make this fund raising venture a success. The fire department urgently needs additional money to pay for needed equipment and our organization hopes that this effort will help relieve the problem."

As the fire department is run on a volunteer basis the only means of financial support are derived from their yearly card party and dance which does not cover their needs thruout the year.

L-W Debaters Qualify For TV Tourney

The Lincoln-Way high school debate team qualified to enter the TV Rebuttal series on WBBM-Channel 2, at the "Debate Day" qualifying tournament held at Northwestern university last Saturday. A date has not been set for Lincoln-Way's first appearance on TV.

"Resolved that the United Nations should be significantly strengthened," was the question debated in the qualifying round
last week.

Jeanine Peters and Mike Tate
were Lincoln-Way's representatives on the affirmative side of the question. Kay Van Reed-en and James Lakin were the negative team.

Last year Lincoln-Way finished in a tie for third place in the state debate tournament
at Champaign in the early part of April. It was the first Lincoln-Way team to reach the state level in debate.

Plans are underway for a debate against the Carl Sandburg varsity debates in an all-school assembly program at Lincoln-Way.

During the worst days of last summer's heat wave, a church in the Midwest placed this item on its bulletin
board:

Choose Principals For 'The Mikado' At L-W High

Principals for "The Mikado," which the music students of Lincoln-Way high school will present Nov. 10 and 11, have been selected at tryouts conducted by Tom D. Olson and David Schuelke, teachers in the music department.

The operettas of Gilbert and Sullivan are a favorite with students and spectators alike
at Lincoln-Way and cast and directors are working hard in rehearsals to make the production another hit.

The love interest centers on Nanki Poo, the Mikado's son,
a tenor, of course, and Yum-Yum, a soprano. Peter Burns, of Frankfort, has the part of Nanki Poo, while Judy Kuen-becker, of Mokena, is cast in the role of Yum-Yum. Both are seniors.

Jim DeHart, a senior, from New Lenox, and a bass, is to be the Mikado. The part of KoKo, Lord High Executioner,

goes to Richard Osmus, a baritone. Osmus is a junior and resides at Frankfort. Another baritone, Charles Johnson, a sophomore from Manhattan,
will appear as Poo-Bah, Lord High Everything Else, and still another baritone, Terry Larson, a junior from New Lenox,
will sing the role of Pish-Tush,
described simply as a noble
lord.

Sundra Gregory, a junior from New Lenox, a mezzo soprano, will have the part of Pitti-Sing and Sandra Kooyenga, a sophomore from Lincolnwood, a contralto, will appear as Peep-Bo. The part of Katisha,
"an elderly lady in love with Nanki-Poo," will be played by Lorraine Kramer, a contralto
and a junior from New Lenox.

Name 7 Area Teachers To Attend IEA Meet

Seven teachers were selected by the Lincoln-Way area teachers association as delegates to the Northeastern division of the Illinois Education Association assembly to be held at Ellis junior high school in Elgin on October 12.

The delegates are: Leroy Wright, principal at Frankfort elementary school; Mrs. Floyd Mundt, teacher from New Lenox; Coleman Rogers, teacher from Mokena; Miss Anna McDonald, teacher from Manhattan; Mrs. Madalene Gregory, teacher from Mokena; Leroy Olson, teacher from Frankfort;

Miss Shelby Brown, teacher
at New Lenox.

This will be a policy making meeting for the Northeastern Division of the IEA. The ratification of certain amendments to the constitution is also on the agenda for the evening session.

This group is responsible for the matching grants with the local Future Teachers Association of high schools for student scholarship in the field of teaching.

Alternates are all teachers
at Lincoln-Way High School,
Art Mackay, Mrs. Della
Hussey and Al Dalkowski.

Eastern Area Council Of PTA Meets Tonight

The first meeting of the Eastern Area Will County Council PTA meeting will be held (tonight) Thursday, Oct. 5 at 8:00 p. m. in the Beecher grade school.

A film strip on communism will provide the program for the evening which, the committee has said, will be very educational and enlightening.

All members of PTA organizations in the area are invited to attend. It is stressed that a member does not have to be a delegate in order to attend this meeting.

MAKES FAST START

James Engelbrecht, of Orland Park, is to appear before Police Magistrate Robert Burns
at Frankfort at 2 p.m. Oct. 14 to explain why on Sept. 29 he had to start his car so fast that he put 101 feet of skidmarks on Kansas st. One hundred and one feet of skidmarks from a standing start is a lot of skidmarks,
according to Frankfort Police Chief Francis Simon, and no doubt took heavy toll of the tire treads.

Files Petition For Estate

A petition asking that she be named administratrix of the estate of her son, Patrick Horan killed in a rail crossing crash on Francis road last spring, has been filed in the Will county probate court by Mrs. Alice Horan, New Lenox township.

The estate consists solely of a claim for wrongful death against the Wabash railroad.
The accident occurred May 16. The 18-year old victim collided with the locomotive of a Wabash train. He would have graduated from Lincoln-Way
high school last June.

Besides the mother the other heirs that would share in the estate are the father, Patrick; a brother, Robert, and a half-brother, J. Kenneth Mills, all of New Lenox township.

Probate Judge Stewart C.
Hutchinson has set Oct. 23 as the date of hearing on the petition.

Truck Rams Wabash Train On Francis Rd.

Another crash has occurred on the Francis road crossing of the Wabash railroad but this time the motorist escaped injury.

The accident occurred last Friday afternoon. A Northwestern Illinois Gas Co. truck driven by William P. McDonald, 25, of Joliet, crashed into the side of a southbound passenger train and dragged about 50 feet. Then it bounced off and rolled into a ditch, landing with the wheels in the air.
Two of the coaches of the train
were damaged.

McDonald told Deputy Sheriff
Gus Hendrickson that he did not see the train until he was almost on the crossing. Then he set the handbrake on the truck and jumped, the report states.
McDonald was traveling west.
He told the deputy that he heard
no train whistle.

Flasher lights have been ordered for the crossing which has been the scene of several wrecks, but work on the improvement has not been started. Four persons have been killed on this crossing in less than two years.

Hearing Problem?

Read what one lady wrote:
Why I like your Hearing Service
Plan

1. I have a better quality aid than one I could afford to buy outright. No large investment.
2. All batteries and repairs are included so my aid is right and I'm hearing my best.
3. I don't have to save on batteries by turning it off several times a day—Now I hear all my waking hours.
4. No liability—I just pay a fair rental each month. Just like my telephone service.
5. Extensive hearing tests to make sure you can first benefit from an aid and second to select the right one for you (including the quality precision fitted MAICO aids).

If you don't hear as well as you think you should—you owe it to yourself and your family to investigate this plan.

Come in or telephone for a home appointment. There is no obligation.

SPEAKING OF BEAUTY

By Mr. Joseph

Formerly With Helena Rubinstein

We're Hair Doctors

Just as your physician gives you tonics and vitamins when you don't feel up to snuff, we give the revitalizing remedies needed by your hair. Sometimes the results you want may be achieved in just one sitting. A bit more body, renewed elasticity, better sheen or younger-looking hair without dustings or dandruff. But far oftener, hair problems demand a series of treatments, before tresses respond with renewed youth. Our treatments are seldom costly or time-consuming. They make just a pleasant extra moment or two in your visit—but that moment makes a momentous improvement!

Ours Alone

Only we have this special beauty salon hair conditioning formula! You'll never find it at drug stores or cosmetic counters. It's a professional formula requiring our special skills in application. You'll bless the day we use it on your hair. This liquid puts elasticity back into thin, grey locks, makes fine hair hold a curl as never before. It can give "difficult" hair the power to take a truly good permanent wave at last. Or we'll use it to condition over-bleached hair before we color it by our famous better methods.
